

Independent Occupational Therapy for you

Do you, or your child, have difficulty doing the things that you need or want to do? You could gain greater independence with help from an independent occupational therapist. To arrange a private assessment, request a price list or for further information - Click here.

Update

Due to reduction in staff availability and current issues with OT recruitment Quality Independence is currently only accepting new enquiries for adult clients.

Sometimes your health or ability to move, hold things, or think clearly will prevent you from doing what you need or enjoy. Sometimes it is the environment around you that prevents your greater independence. Often it is a combination of these things.

An experienced occupational therapist from Quality Independence Ltd can expertly assess why you have difficulty completing everyday tasks. We can then offer treatment to improve your own skills or the techniques that you use, and suggest practical ways to alter your home in order to remove obstacles to your independence.

"Just a quick note to say thank you for your visit. I was a little apprehensive before your arrival as I don't talk about my condition much and so most people are unaware and so I "suffer in silence". You were very easy to talk to and really sympathetic to my needs, and I just wanted to thank you again as it does make all the difference." - Mrs H.Â

"I just had to email and say the biggest THANK YOU. I have a beautiful bath that is fit for purpose. I have never enjoyed a bath as much as that 1st one." - Mrs A.Â :~ Following installation of new bath that she could actually use independently!

{tab=Help for Children}

Children need to be able to develop the skills that they require in order to be as independent and healthy as possible. Some children find it difficult to achieve their full potential without specialist help, others have a diagnosed disability that makes acquiring (or maintaining) independent living skills difficult.

An experienced Children's Occupational Therapist from Quality Independence can assess your child and the activities they are finding difficult, establish the cause of their practical problems and offer further occupational therapy treatment in order to help them to progress.

PLEASE NOTE

We are not currently able to take any new referrals for Children since we have not yet recruited an OT to our vacant post.

We are sorry for the inconvenience caused.
